AROUND THE TOWN.

Incidents and Accidents in and About Yale

Briefly Itemized for Expositor Readers.

All summer long the barnyard heard the turkey's brag and boast. And now they're glad that bumptious bird on all sides gets a roast!

Mrs. Frank Gilliam is sick this week. Delicious bulk oysters at Wear's, the leading market.

Keep your eye on the surprise in Ballentine's ad this week.

A new walk has been placed across the street near Henry Slight's.

Buy your turkeys, ducks and geese at Wear's the popular meat dealer.

J. M. Palmer is the happy possessor of a registered thoroughbred jersey cow.

Born to the wife of Henry Sharrard, in Lynn township on Sunday last, a daughter.

We understand that Bert Schram, a former resident of Yale, but now living at Hesperia, is sick with typhoid fever.

J. P. Losey has something of interest to say to you in his new ad which you will find on this page of The Expositor.

Ed. Orchard and family, who lately moved to this village, were at Peck on Tuesday attending the funeral of Mr. Orchard's father.

One week from to-morrow the average country newspaper man will feast off a Thanksgiving dinner of paste and fried roller composition.

Bertha Cameron has been quite sick of late with malarial fever. Letta McHarg has been teaching the Careless school during Miss Cameron's illness.

For Sale or Rent—The forty acres adjoining George Colden's farm near Avoca station. See Moses Moore, Avoca, or write Frank Whipple, Port Huron.

Celery Nerve and Blood Tonic is the best medicine for rheumatism, biliousness, constipation, dyspepsia, head-ache and liver complaint. Sold on a guarantee by Grant Holden.

The family of the late M. Dooley wish to take this opportunity to thank their friends and neighbors for their many kind deeds and consoling words during this time of grief, and assure them that they will always be cherished in their memories.

John Davey, proprietor of the Davey House at Brockway is making extensive preparations for a grand ball on Thanksgiving evening, Nov. 28th. The floor managers will be James Haley, Frank Downey and Will Cole. Mr. Davey is sparing no pains to make this a thorough success, and he has quite a habit of accomplishing what he undertakes. Everyone who attends can bank on having a good time.

Chas. Vanasche has of late contracted a dismal habit of abusing his wife by giving her sundry affectionate pats on the head with his clenched fists. At different times he has grabbed her by the foot and dragged her around the room in her robe de nuit. He was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Emery on Wednesday afternoon and is now chewing the cud of sweet and bitter thoughts in the local penitentiary.

Mrs. O. L. Ashley, an old and respected resident of this village, died on Monday last at the home of A. Shearer, in this township. Mr. Shearer's first wife was her daughter. Mrs. Ashley came to this town about twenty years ago with her husband who died here in 1882. She was the mother of two children who are both dead. The funeral took place on Wednesday from the house where she died, Elder Lester Clark officiating. The remains were interred in Moore's cemetery.

The Bay View reading circle met at the residence of R. S. Campbell, organized and elected the following officers: President, R. S. Campbell; Vice Pres., Phoebe Roy; Sec., Hattie Hayes; Treas., Mrs. Griswold. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Griswold on Monday evening Nov. 23. This reading circle is not exclusively confined to teachers, but is intended for the benefit of all who are interested in educating themselves or making it possible for others to acquire an education. As education is the only source of temporal salvation for the people, such organizations as this should receive the hearty support of everybody. All interested parties are invited to attend.

NERVE CURES by removing the CAUSE.
G. Holden, Yale. W. J. McKinney, Brockway

Fresh Baltimore oysters at Wear's meat market.

Will Lennon has a new line of spectacles just received.

Ad changes—J. C. Holden, J. P. Losey and Grant Holden.

Mrs. Barrett, who has been dangerously ill for some time past, is at present improving rapidly.

Don't forget the oyster supper to-night for the benefit of all the YPSC societies in Yale at the McKenna block.

For Sale—One improved 80-acre farm near Brown City, one improved 20-acre farm one mile from Brown City. Terms reasonable. Address box 1, Brown City, Mich. 28-4

The officers of Court Yale again wish us to remind the members of that order to all be sure and attend the next meeting on Nov. 30. Matters of importance must come before the lodge.

The new Masonic block is looming up in great style and when completed will be an ornament to the town. The upper part will be used as a race track for the festive Masonic goat and the lower story will be used for store purposes.

A good cook stove for sale cheap. A warmed room to rent. A horse, harness and buggy to exchange for a good cow giving milk. A good 40 acre farm to exchange for house and lot in town. A fine team of draft horses and other stock to deal on house and lot in town. Call at the office of E. H. Drake for particulars.

The wife of Leonard Wells, of East Brimfield, Mass., had been suffering from neuritis for two days, not being able to sleep or hardly keep still, when Mr. Holden, the merchant there sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and asked if she give it a thorough trial. On meeting Mr. Wells the next day he was told that she was all right, the pain had left her within two hours, and that the bottle of Pain Balm was worth $5.00 if it could not be had for less. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by Will Lennon, druggist.

Last Friday afternoon two specimens of the genus homo from somewhere in the vicinity of Inlay City came to Yale with the very evident intention of decorating the town with an elaborate coat of bright vermilion. They began operations by visiting the various licensed bazaars of the burg where they purchased and concealed within their anatomy huge quantities of choice case and barrel goods, then they commenced to spread paint. One ran amuck up Main street until he collided with Marshal Wilson who kindly took him in tow, but said to say for the painter the Marshal's course lay directly toward the Village hall, where the would be decorator soon found himself sadly ruminating over the hardness of the human heart that nipped his little toes so early in the bud. But sadder and wiser was he when later he was required to "cough up" eight big 100 cent silver dollars and drop them into Justice Effrick's contribution box. Meanwhile the other fellow had struck no less discouraging circumstances. In an unguarded moment he had gone into Ed Pratt's barber shop where the announced intention of "cleaning out the ranch." For a minute there was an awful racket in the shop, then the door flew open, and the fellow flew out, lit on the sidewalk with a thud and laid there. When they went to pick him up he declared he was stabbed, and upon examination it was found that he had been stabbed hard about six times in close proximity to the pistol pocket with a cork toe. In other words he was badly corked, so bad in fact that the village marshal concluded to let him go without further punishment.

Ever alive to the artistic tastes of the times, The Art Amateur gives this month a lavish selection of examples of the work of the early English masters, of the "craze" for which still continues. The number is more than usually rich with its two charming colored supplements—one a rich, bright and glowing study of geraniums by Clara Goodyear, the other a delightful study of out-door life by Rhoda Holmes Nicholls, about which, by the bye, the editor has a curious tale to tell in his Note Book. It is a story of a stolen picture of which more will doubtless be heard later. But as usual the real value of the magazine lies in the practical papers for art students of all classes. There are designs for the new fashionable marquetrie painting—infinitely suggestions, designs and motives including some useful Don'ts for china painters (indeed there is no magazine so useful to the china painter as The Art Amateur). Metal Work and Pyrography on wood and on leather—the latter especially, are handled in detail, and valuable hints are given, some English ideas for House Decoration will be found both novel and useful, and the illustrated description of Mr. Harry Penn, the artist's home, will be read with interest. Landscape painting, still-life painting, sketching, illustrating, advice to art students, art notes and hints, are all practical and good, and the number is more complete in every department. The publisher authorizes us to repeat the offer made by him last month to send to any one who quotes this notice a specimen copy of this issue together with the valuable little "Manual of Practical Hints for Beginners," post free, on receipt of 25 cents, the usual price of the magazine being 35 cents or $4.00 a year. Applicants should ask for the list of special offers to new subscribers this year. (Montague Marks, 23 Union Square, New York.)

Can This Be So?
Is it possible that every woman in this part of the county intends to leave us her hat order this fall? It certainly looks like it. Never have we done such a business. Never before have we had to re-order so often. Never have our trimmers worked so hard. There must be a reason for all this big increase. Its our new plan—selling rich, stylish hats at a lower price than buyers expect to pay—lower than the small shops ask for more inferior goods and styles. New goods, up to the hour novelties by every express. If you buy a $2 hat or a $20 hat, give us a call before buying. Boice's.

Andrew Depeel is building a new house on the site of his former lumber yards on North street. He will remove the yard to his lot adjoining the Masonic block on main street. He has also purchased the Ashley house and lot and will use the house for a workshop during the winter.

Horace Lamb reports having bought and shipped this fall 310 cars of apples from different stations as follows: Inlay City 173, Lum 37, North Branch 57, Yale 43. This with 27 cars being held at the different stations make a total of 337 cars which he has handled this fall.—Inlay City Record.

Grant Holden arrived home last week from a two weeks hunting trip in the North Woods. He reports an elegant time and says that when he first came back he weighed five pounds more than he did when he went away—until he got a bath, then he found the accumulation entirely superficial. The remainder of the party will not be back for two weeks yet.

Mrs. Shaw who died at her home south and west of the village Tuesday morning last had been a resident of this township for nearly thirty years, having come here in 1867. She with her husband moved upon the place where she died in 1872. There were born to them nine children, eight of whom are living and are as follows: James, of Yale, Mrs. Curry, of Sanilac county, Robert, Samuel, Carroll, Ed, Harvey and John at home. For several years Mrs. Shaw has kept the family together by her own exertions aided only by her children. She was a kind and obliging neighbor and was loved and respected by all who knew her. Her remains were laid to rest in Elmwood cemetery yesterday. The funeral sermon was delivered in Brick Chapel by Rev. Kirkland.
